

Come on let me grab this one too

Once one lion was having heavy lunch with his family members

At that time jackal, fox and wild dogs were hiding in the nearby bushes

When will the lion be full and when can we eat the remnants

The lion and his family ate sufficiently and gradually they walked away. Then the hidden animals came out to enjoy the food

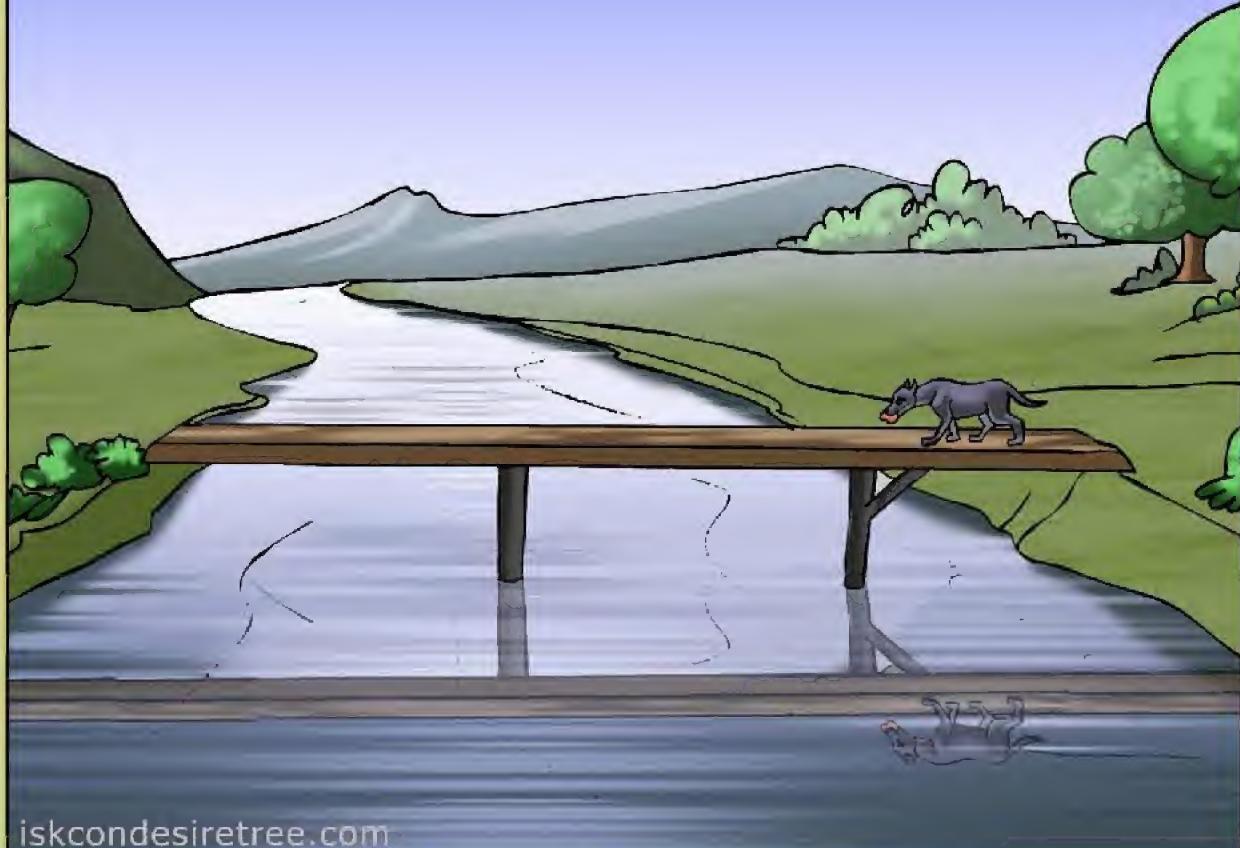

One greedy wild dog barked loudly and came in great speed

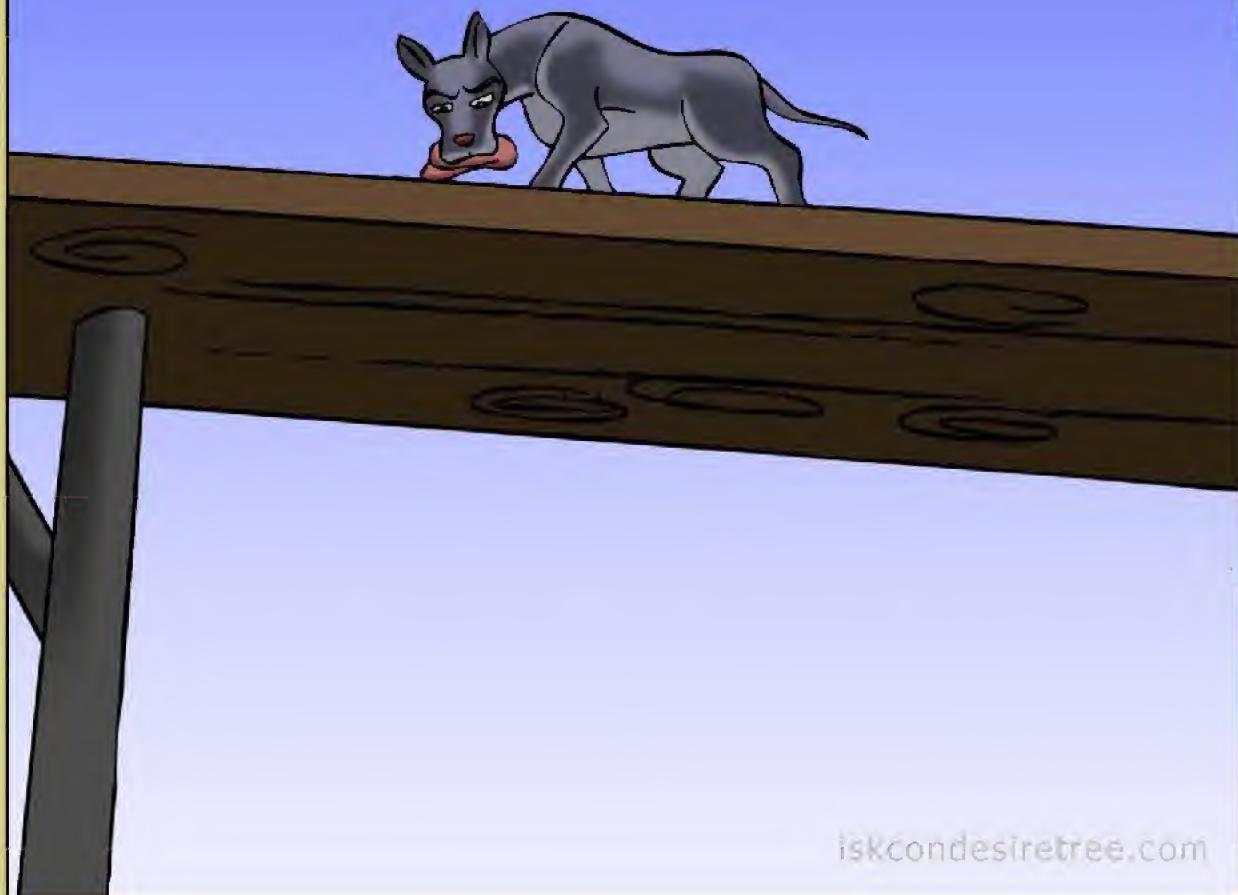

He picked up the bone having flesh over it and ran away

There was a small river nearby. On that river, was a wooden bridge. The dog walked very fast on that bridge

Suddenly he saw something in the river. His ears stood up

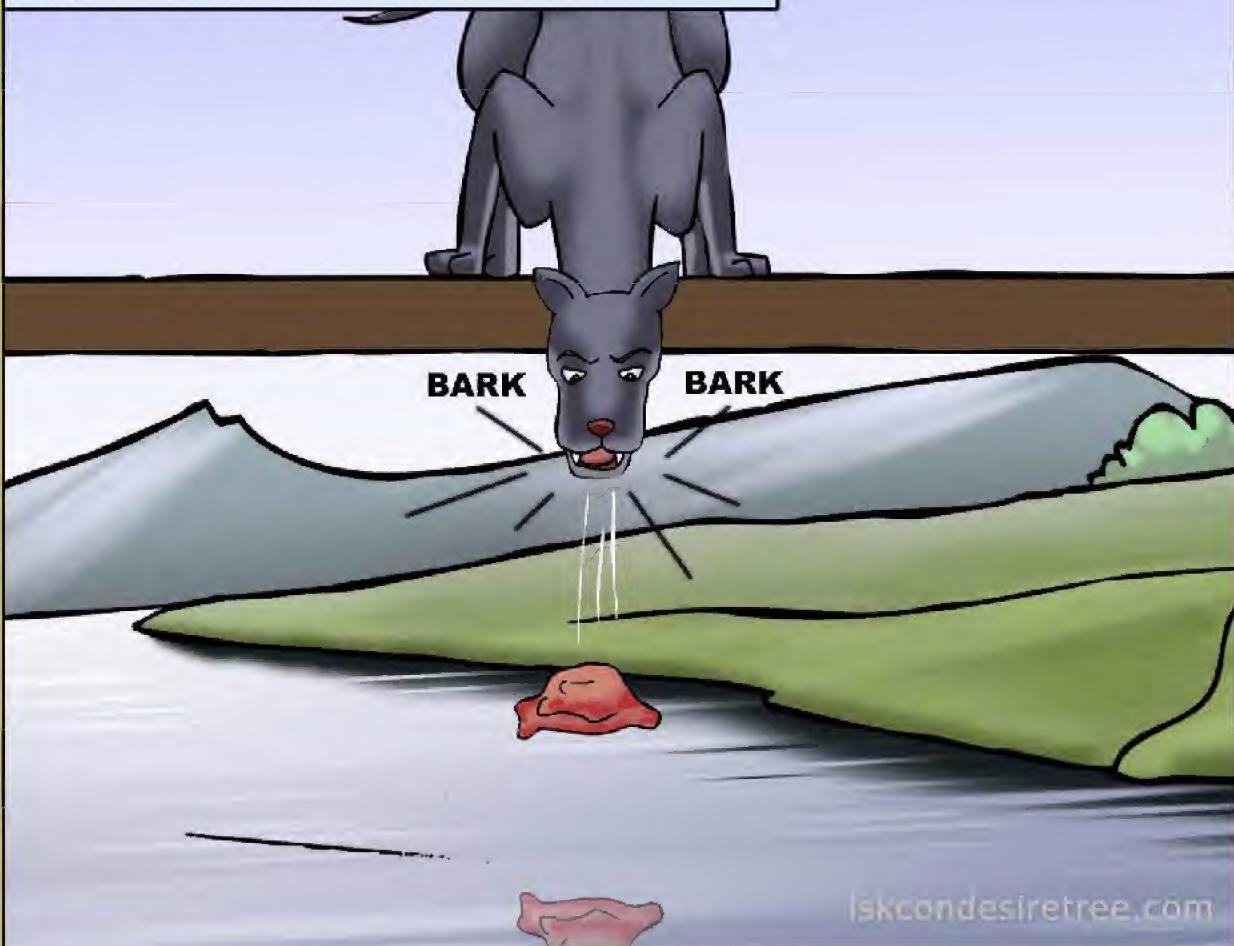

He saw his own reflection there

Oh, this dog is carrying a bigger bone in his mouth than mine! Why not grab that bone from him!

Thinking in this way the wild dog began to bark loudly at his reflection. As soon as he opened his mouth to bark, the bone from his mouth fell in the river....

.... and disappeared

Now, there was no bone even in the mouth of the dog and the water too. The dog again barked at his reflection and kept seeing at the flowing river in the nervous mood

MORAL :

Don't be too greedy or else you will loose what you already have
